Aimee Shaffer - Humanitarian Inductee

Aimee Shaffer is a well-known local radio personality, animal lover and entrepreneur, who leveraged her on-air time to promote area non-profit organizations. Her position at the former “Radio People” in Fort Walton Beach provided her first venue to talk about local non-profits and civic organizations and launched her career as a serial volunteer across the Emerald Coast. Shaffer lent her time and talents to two-dozen organizations through “Emerald Coast Conversations,” her radio talk show. She also runs a professional in-home pet-sitting service, which satisfies her long-time interest in animal welfare, while continuing to volunteer wherever her time and talents are needed.
